First National Loan Fund Dedicated to Supportive Housing Launches with Investment in Housing for Veterans

New York, NY – Today, CSH announces the launch of the Supportive Housing Solutions Fund, the first ever national loan fund dedicated solely to supportive housing, with an investment in Homes for Heroes. Located in Gary, Indiana, Homes for Heroes is symbolic of the fund’s overall goals, to reach underserved housing markets and infuse capital into supportive housing to meet the needs of the communities’ most vulnerable. Broadway Area CDC will receive a $414,000 predevelopment loan for Homes for Heroes to convert an abandoned building and vacant lot into a beautiful new 44-unit residence for veterans at risk of homelessness.

“This is a much needed project in our area and we would not be able to move forward without this lending opportunity,” said Vernita Leslie, Executive Director, Broadway Area CDC. “We are thrilled to be the first borrower of the Supportive Housing Solutions Fund and are very appreciative of CSH. The staff has been excellent to work with, and has helped us with this process so that closing a loan was not intimidating.”

The $45 million Solutions Fund is built on more than 20 years of CSH’s lending experience and involvement in local funds that have worked to bring public, private and philanthropic investors together.

"HSBC Bank is thrilled to partner with CSH in the launch of the Supportive Housing Solutions Fund," said Kathleen Rizzo Young, Senior Vice President, Community Development. "The Fund’s innovative capital structure meets the needs of all stakeholders by maximizing community impact, offering flexible financing to supportive housing developers, and minimizing credit risk. HSBC’s $8.77 million participation in the Fund will help serve vulnerable residents in important markets like Los Angeles, CA and New York City, through the development of permanent supportive housing."

The Solutions Fund started with an initial investment from the 2012 Wells Fargo NEXT Awards for Opportunity Finance. CSH then engaged its longtime partners and philanthropic leaders the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation and Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, as well as premier private sector investors - Bank of America, Deutsche Bank, HSBC Bank, and Morgan Stanley.

“We are thrilled to see this fund come to fruition with an investment in Homes for Heroes. CSH has long understood the importance of supportive housing as a solution for combating society’s toughest challenges and we are excited to have the support of philanthropy and the financial sector as we look to bring supportive housing to more communities across the country,” said CSH President and CEO Deborah De Santis.

"We are pleased to join CSH and our other partners in creating the Supportive Housing Solutions Fund," said Audrey Choi, Managing Director and Head of Morgan Stanley Global Sustainable Finance. "Morgan Stanley's investment in the fund reflects our continued commitment to building stronger communities, collaborating with philanthropic and other private sector partners to combine affordable housing with critically needed social services."

Supportive housing is a platform for services that create opportunities for recovery, personal growth, and life-long success.

“RWJF has long believed in creating a comprehensive safety net for the most vulnerable among us,” said Robert Wood Johnson Foundation President and CEO Risa Lavizzo-Mourey, MD, MBA. "By pairing stable, affordable housing with health and social services, CSH is helping individuals in need lead healthier and more stable lives."

The Solutions Fund is designed to expand high-impact housing solutions across the country by providing acquisition, predevelopment, and construction funding for projects which include supportive housing targeted to very low income tenants who are most in need.
